

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

After three masked robbers had ransacked her house at Salt Lake City, getting $2,000 in money and jewels, Mrs. B. Baum pleaded with the bandits for enough money to buy circus tickets for the children. They returned $5 to her.

Ed Weyer of Centralia, Kan., surprised his friends by driving to town with a hog beside him on the front seat of his automobile. Weyer had been loading hogs into a wagon to take to the stockyards and had just one more than the wagon could hold.
